

Testvale Squares Graduate Mainstream Dancers

After several months of training, Testvale Squares graduated over twenty dancers within the Mainstream level with nine dancers achieving graduation in all 68 Mainstream moves.

At a Club night in June the dancers, supported by friends and family, were 'tested' on all the moves and achieved perfect scores, gaining their Testvale Square badge and a certificate. Graduating to the Mainstream level means you can go to an 'open' dance at another Club in the UK or worldwide and confidently dance to other callers.

Square dancing is a continuous learning process with progression beyond Mainstream if desired. It keeps your mind and body active, is great for socialising with other dancers and forming long-term friendships. At Testvale we recently celebrated a member's 90th birthday, still active and dancing within the Club.
